

JAPANESE LANGUAGE SKILLS

of

the Vietnamese Workforce

Japanese is the 2nd most commonly learned foreign language in Vietnam, after English.

Source: Project 2020, 2014

#8

Vietnam ranks #8 in the world and #3 in Southeast Asia on the lists of countries with the highest number of Japanese learners

Source: Japan's Ministry of Foreign Affairs, 2017

#2

Vietnam ranks #2 in the world and #1 in Southeast Asia on the lists of countries with the highest number of students travelling to Japan to learn Japanese

Source: Japan's Ministry of Foreign Affairs, 2016

 80,683

Over 80,683 Vietnamese students have studied in Japan

Source: Japanese Ministry of Justice, 2018

 90,000

90,000 The number of Japanese learners each year in 180 education organizations in Vietnam (including secondary schools, high schools and other training centers)

Source: Japan Foundation – Japanese education by country - Vietnam, 2018

#1

Vietnam has the highest number of candidates taking the Japanese Language Proficiency Test of all the countries in Southeast Asia, about 30,226 people

Source: Japanese Language Proficiency Test, 2016

Japanese IT education in major technology universities in Vietnam

Priority pledged for Vietnam-Japan training cooperation

Source: The Ministry of Education and Training

VIETNAM-JAPAN UNIVERSITY

To be opened in 2019. Japan's top schools are involved, including (to name a few):

The University of Tokyo

Kyoto University

Osaka University

Nagoya University

Source: Nikkei Asian Review

HCMC UNIVERSITY OF TECHNOLOGY - HUTECH

Vietnam – Japan Institute of Technology, VJIT

Provides 1,000 Japanese-speaking engineers in IT, mechanics, and other fields for Japanese companies each year

Source: Vietnam - Japan Institute of Technology

HANOI UNIVERSITY OF SCIENCE & TECHNOLOGY - HUST

HEDSPI - Human Higher Education Development Support Project on ICT

A cooperative for ICT training between HUST and Japanese universities, formed in 2006, with an ICT training program in accordance with the ITSS standard of Japan

Source: HEDSPI project